Time's Revenge.

The Footlight makes these sensible remarks:

If God Almighty ever inflicted a people with a worse pest than the "Divide hoodlum," it is extremely hard to find. The spirit of fun should be encouraged in youth, and is a healthy growth. The boys on the Divide have perverted it into devilry of the worst kind. Many of these boys are grown youths and will soon be young men, when they will be tapping at the doors of the Miners' Union for admission and seeking work in the mines. They can only blame themselves if all in authority refuse them employment. The memory of their rank misconduct now, will live long after they have grown into manhood and forgotten it themselves. Great injuries men can forgive, but the thousand and one pestilential annoyances will always rankle in remembrance. This is the true secret why it is so hard for youths raised on the Comstock to obtain work in the mines the past few years. If a prophet has no honor in his own country, how much less the young man applying for work to superintendents and foremen who identify him as one of the Divide, Norcross or Andes gang of a few years back, who delighted in annoying and tormenting every passer-by, and especially if he wore the honorable gray badge of age. Surely time brings about its revenges.

A Significant Fact.

The San Francisco Post says the payment of the present dividend on Consolidated California shares is in marked contrast with that at the payment of the last previous dividend. Then the hallway leading to the office was blockaded with the long lines of people day after day. Since Monday last comparatively few people have applied for dividends, and it is rare that more than two or three are seen in the office at one time. Shrewd observers take this as a sign that the stock is not now scattered so widely as formerly, but that the bulk of it is in the hands of a few owners.

—The Enterprise says: It is absurd for the State Legislature to talk about giving a President of the State University $5,000 per year salary. Nevada can't afford to do anything of the kind. Two thousand dollars will buy as good talent in that direction as $5,000. If the additional $3,000 were appropriated to sinking experimental artesian wells, we might after a while place ourselves in a position to pay twice as much as the majority of Presidents of Universities are worth.

An experimental artesian well 1,000 feet deep, in each county of the State would result in more good to Nevada than anything else that could be made, next to the hydrographic survey.

—An Oakland juror recently asked a Judge a question that had a dreadfully sharp point to it. An attorney, in arguing the case on trial, had particularly impressed upon the jury the legal aphorism falsus in uno falsus in omnibus, applying it to one of the witnesses. After the Judge had delivered his charge a juror arose and asked the Court whether the jury should discredit all an attorney said if it knew he had made one false statement. When the Court could catch his breath he promptly ordered the bailiff to take charge of the jury.

—Two Chicago men discussed the weather the other morning, one claiming that the mercury was below zero, the other that it was above. Then they backed up their opinions with money, and hurried to the nearest drug store to consult the thermometer. The man who thought the weather extremely cold was near-sighted, and while he was engaged in preparing to look at the instrument the other held his lighted cigar under the bulb and won his bet with ease.

—James McCord, Superintendent of the Sutter Street R. R. Company, San Francisco, while testifying before Labor Commissioner Esos, who is making an inquiry into the carmen's strike, stated that the total losses to the Company since the strike began, aggregate over $60,000.
